Memu Todays lessons: Today I am going to teach you some of my life's lessons. I know, the list is long and the lessons aren't as sweet as they are tragic, but these are the lessons that I have learned so far in my life. I know, there are a lot of lessons I still have to learn in my life. That's why, I am not going to tell you about all of the lessons, but only the ones that I have learned so far and I hope that you will learn from this. Today I am going to teach you 6 of my life's lessons. 1. Life is not easy. This is my first lesson that I want to share with you today. Just like any other lessons I have learned in my life, this one comes as a surprise to me sometimes. Life is not easy and you should never be fooled by people who are saying that life is easy. There are a lot of things that we have to face every day. Some of them are kind of nice, like Christmas, while some others are not so nice, like learning to love yourself and others. But the truth is that life is not easy. There are a lot of lessons that you have to learn in life. You have to learn to make the right choices and sometimes you have to learn to make the wrong choices. But the important thing is that you learn from your mistakes. You learn to love yourself, you learn to love others and you learn to accept yourself for who you are. This is what I am trying to do as I write this article, because this is how I learned my first lesson. This is my first lesson that I want to share with you today. 2. Don't have secrets from your loved ones. This is the second lesson that I want to share with you. This lesson came when I was a kid and I started having secrets. I was always hiding something from my mom and dad, and that made me feel bad about myself. I was ashamed about some things that I was hiding from them and I felt guilty about it. I felt that I shouldn't have kept the secrets and now they were going to hate me. So, what I did was that I started hiding things from my loved ones. And that made me feel worse, because I was afraid that I was going to lose them. That's when I learned 82157476af
